

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

To Have Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Keister will entertain a number of friends over the week-end at White Day. They have had as their guest this week the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Keister of Franklin, W. Va.

Entertains Guild
The Misses Neva Prunty and Marie Lloyd entertained chapter No. 715 of the World Wide Guild of the Palatine Baptist Church last night in the home of Miss Prunty in State street. Two cow members, Miss Myrtle McKinney and Miss Mary Shaffer, were taken into the society.

Miss Eupha Prunty was in charge of the program, which was opened with the guild song and devotionals. A piano duet was played by Miss Martha Prunty and Miss Neva Prunty and talks on the missionary lesson were made by Mrs. Poe, Miss Matilda McKinney and Miss Iva Husted. The program was closed by the assembly singing the national guild song.

A social hour followed the program and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting of the society will be held in the home of Miss Goldie Hall in Bellview, first Monday in October.

Have Daughter
A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Amos today at Cook Hospital. This is the second child born to Mr. and Mrs. Amos, the other child being a son.

Guests Arrive
Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Martin and son Ernest of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Hilda Parry and George E. Evans, both of Charleston, are guests at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Martin, having come here to attend the wedding of their daughter, Miss Martin, which takes place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Billingsley Memorial Church. The marriage will be a beautiful one and will be followed by a reception to be held in the parlors of the church. Miss Martin will be attended by her three sisters, the Misses Strauss, Mildred and Nell Martin, and the marriage ceremony will be performed by her father, assisted by the Rev. R. L. Brown, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Other guests will arrive here today and tomorrow for the wedding and will include the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Carter of Clarksburg, the Rev. and Mrs. I. S. Taylor of Fairview and W. M. Martin of Columbus.

To Huntington
Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bannister and little son, who have been residing on Walnut avenue, are moving soon to Huntington, where they will reside. They have given up their home on Walnut avenue and will visit relatives for a short while before going to Huntington.

Have New Son
Cards have been received here announcing the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Edd M. Hall, formerly of this city, which was born recently at their home at Benson, Mo. The child, who is the second son, has been named John Lowell Hall.

For Bride-to-Be
Miss Stella Martin will take place Thursday afternoon, was honor guest of the R. T. Webb Class at an affair of lovely appointments given in the parlors of the M. E. Church South Tuesday evening. Numerous baskets of cut flowers and foliage added to the beauty of the room. The evening was spent in an informal way, each young lady hemming a towel which was given the honor guest. Little Misses Katherine Farlow and Elsie May Poling, charmingly dressed as cupids, presented the bride-elect with a beautiful silver basket, the gift of the class. Tempting refreshments were served.

To Honor Miss McKinney
All Catholic Daughters of America have been invited to be present at a farewell gathering, honoring Miss Nola McKinney, to be held by Court Joan of Arc No. 341 in Knights of Columbus Hall this evening, at 8 o'clock. Miss McKinney will leave shortly to take welfare work at Chicago Heights, Ill.

Attend Reunion

Huge Fox Expects to Win Big Beauty Contest on Weight

HUGH ('HUGE') FOX
Drawing by Tucker

Managing the local office of the "Conco" and running Austin Maun's tailoring shop, not to mention his necessary frequent trips to Clarksburg, "Huge" Fox has found it impossible to sit for a new picture to enter in The West Virginian male beauty contest. However, he sent in the one above which was taken a few years ago, when he was a lad attending the public schools of Farmington and was somewhat thinner.

At the time this picture was taken Mr. Fox was 15 years old and weighed 210 pounds; now he weighs 290.

Mr. Fox received his early education in the Farmington public schools and the Fairmont high school, after which he entered the West Virginia University and majored in poultry husbandry. While a student in the latter institution Mr. Fox starred in athletics and received his letter as recognition for the excellent work he did on the football team and in track events.

Upon entering the University Mr. Fox was the most "rushed" man in the school, each fraternity seeming bent on having him. However, he decided on the Delta Tau Delta, wishing to be with the "boys from home." At the house he was a general favorite and the entire fraternity declared him "a jolly good fellow."

After leaving school he graciously accepted his place in Farmington society, flitting here and there to tea and dance, and running a close second to "Wally" Reid, until out of a clear sky he was jilted by the fairest of the fair and retired to seclusion. This occasioned pangs of regret in the hearts of designing mammas who had debutante daughters. However, time heals all wounds and "Huge" now sees a rosy future in the not too far distant west.

True to type this poor t. b. m. is erratic and of a nervous temperament. When he greets one across his marble topped office desk he bellows and brings down his fists on its surface with adamant conviction and sovereignty, but once away from the office and his worries he is as meek and gentle as a lamb and would not harm even a mouse. It is this gentle quality of mercy that endears him so to all who know him.

As with one of Mr. Fox's prominence, his life is constantly in danger and it is not safe for him to journey forth after dusk without a body guard. Within the past few years he has been the recipient of so many blackhand letters that his family insists that he sleep with a revolver within arms reach, and more than once this worthy weapon has saved his life when the house was infested with marauders.

The West Virginian is backing Mr. Fox in its male beauty contest, for, to date, no bigger man has been entered.

FALL GINGHAM WEEK

"New Patterns now on Display"

National Gingham Week

—is a semi-annual event planned to exploit one of the most popular and universally used cotton fabrics. Planned to feature Gingham at a time when they are in great demand and when stocks are fresh and at their best.

For House dresses—call them what you will—the garment which formerly the trade called a house dress, and let it go a that, has attained a tremendous vogue that is a permanent one. Gingham combined with or-gandy cretonne or dimity, trimmed with embroidery, black or white piping fashions dresses that may be worn way into Fall.

School Dresses—School is less than two weeks away, and every careful and thoughtful mother is busily and happily planning small outfits for school wear. The question of little clothes is one to be solved in the sewing room. There are so many little frocks which mother finds more convenient, more economical, and more practical to have made. Materials by the yard can be selected, cut and fashioned to fulfill the child's own individual need and preference. And what material is more practical for children's school dresses than gingham? Inexpensive as they are their pretty patterns, dainty colors and fine quality all combine to make most becoming school frocks.
